GOOD BACTERIA

So the good bacteria your gut needs can establish and work.*

WHY YOUR GUT MATTERS

You carry a living community inside you.

Your gut is home to trillions of microorganisms (your microbiota) working every day as part of your digestive system.*

A balanced gut supports how your body functions.

A healthy, balanced microbiota is linked to digestion, regularity, and your body's natural fullness and metabolic signals.*

Daily habits shape that balance.

Diet, stress, and rest all influence this community over time, which is why feeding it well matters.*

MEET THE STAR INGREDIENTS

*Not all probiotics are equal. Each ingredient was chosen for how it works with the others.

Akkermansia muciniphila

Found naturally in the gut's mucosal layer. One of the most studied strains in the microbiome, associated with gut lining integrity, metabolic signaling, and healthy appetite regulation.

Bifidobacterium lactis

One of the most extensively studied probiotic strains. Supports digestive balance and regularity, and helps create an environment where the other strains can thrive.

MEET THE STAR INGREDIENTS

*...and the prebiotic fiber that makes it all work.

Lactobacillus reuteri

Colonizes along the gut wall rather than just passing through, for longer-lasting presence and more consistent support over time.*

XOS (Xylooligosaccharides)

A highly selective prebiotic fiber (380 mg) that preferentially feeds Bifidobacteria and Akkermansia, giving your probiotics the fuel they need to colonize and work.*

2 BILLION AFU PER SERVING

Many supplements list CFU counts in the billions but deliver far less by the time of consumption. MetaBiome GLP's 2 Billion AFU (Active Fluorescent Units) reflects live, active organisms at time of use, not just at time of manufacture.*
